MATTHEW 5:23-24

1. If you are about to give a gift to God and remember that your friend is mad at you, what should you do first?

- A. Give the gift to God immediately.
- B. Leave the gift and go make peace with your friend.
- C. Ignore your friend and forget about the gift.

5. What does the Bible verse say you should do after you have made peace with the person?

- A. Go home and take a nap.
- B. Come back and offer your gift.
- C. Tell everyone about your gift.

2. Where should you leave your gift while you go to make peace with someone?

- A. Take it with you.
- B. Leave it in front of the altar.
- C. Hide it behind a bush.

6. The passage tells us to be reconciled. What does "reconciled" mean in this story?

- A. To have an argument.
- B. To become friends again after a fight.
- C. To buy a new present.

3. Why is it important to make peace with others before offering a gift to God?

- A. Because God wants our relationships to be good.
- B. Because it makes the gift bigger.
- C. Because God only likes gifts on Tuesdays.

7. When should you leave your gift to make peace?

- A. Before you offer it to God.
- B. After you offer it to God.
- C. Only if you feel like it.

4. Who should you go and reconcile with if you remember a problem?

- A. A stranger on the street.
- B. The person who has something against you.
- C. Your favorite teacher.

8. The lesson teaches us that being kind and peaceful with others is important for our relationship with whom?

- A. Only our friends.
- B. Only our family.
- C. God and others.
